“ Mary helped jump start my career by giving me a chance and hiring me. She was a joy to work with and I was very fortunate to report to her. She was a workhorse and no matter how complex the job, she got it done. After working for her, we would intermittently text back and forth and it was clear from our conversations, she loved her family, and especially her baby Caroline, very much. The world lost a real mother, colleague, and friend too soon. My deepest condolences to her family. God bless.

“ Mary, I wish I got to know you longer and I am so sorry this happened to you. I will make sure Gabriel and Caroline hang out and spend time together and they will stay friends. My most heartfelt condolences to Neil, sweet Caroline, and your family who undoubtedly is feeling your loss very deeply.

“ Mary my heart aches for the loss of you. You always were one of the smartest women I know! I will miss you terribly even though we may not have talked often and always had a hard time pinning down a date to get together (!) but when we did get together it was like I saw you yesterday such an easy friendship we had. I have so many memories of you, me and Christine, First Data close nights , lunches, shopping, movies..and the list goes on. May the sun shine warm upon your face and the rains fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again may God hold you in the palm of his hand. Love Kathryn

“ Mary was a joy to work with because she was such a lively and joyful person. Although I did not work with Mary directly, she was always available to help whenever I needed it. All of my interactions with her during our time together were friendly, cordial, and expert. Mary, I appreciate you for you, and you will be miss you terribly. Rest in peace.
